IMPORTANT NOTE

- For online presentations within MICOPAM 2026, you need to follow the instructions at the virtual connection guide which will be sent to you as soon as the committee identifies your emails in the team of the virtual hall. Note that you may receive an email that states you were added as a member to the virtual hall soon.

- The online presentations will be followed by the chairman of the virtual halls. Please do not start a meeting except for the authorized person.

- The participants who will make a presentation in the same session are required to join the session from beginning to end of the relevant session. This is because, in case one of the participants in the same session cannot attend, the chairman of the relevant session may ask for the next speaker to continue with their talk.
